

Sales Support Specialist

About 2150 GmbH

We are a Swiss based Software Development Company that manufactures the Datavault Builder. The Datavault Builder is an end-to-end data integration platform that sets new industry standards. We departure on an international growth strategy. Therefore, we look for a highly motivated new team member that helps us to become the leading data integration automation product.

About the Role

We are looking for a qualified and highly motivated Sales Support Specialist to join our sales and partner management team.

You will provide support to sales representatives and partner managers, as well as respond to customer and prospect queries.

Our ideal candidate has a positive personality that is able to work independently and self-motivated, is highly organized and has a structured way of working.

Responsibilities

Manage and deal with customer and partner inquiries

Organize sales and partner meetings

Organize Webinars and conduct mailings

Manage Pipedrive and leads

Requirements

Proven work experience as a Sales Support Specialist or similar job profiles; or a recent degree in higher education (FMH or similar)

Industry experience a plus

Excellent communication and multitasking skills

Motivation to perform operational tasks and co-design processes

Reliable, self-motivated, open personality that has a structured way of work

Ease to work with and learning new applications; experience with CRM tools (pipedrive, hubspot, etc) and others (wordpress) a plus

German and English required, C1 and above (or equivalent)

Other languages a plus

What we offer

Young and start-up like environment in the tech industry

Potential for development

Be part of a growth journey in the booming data industry

A small team of coffee enthusiasts (free freshly brewed portafilter espresso)

Location: Zürich (post corona)

We are looking forward to receiving your application and CV. Please send us your application and relevant attachments to: contact@datavault-builder.com